College Guidelines, Procedures and Information for Students

COEHD Student Organizations

The following are student organizations within the College of Education and Human Development. They are classified as Academic, Special Interest, or Honor Societies. For more information concerning student organizations on campus go to http://judicialaffairs.tamucc.edu/studenthandbook.html.

Academic Student Organizations:

Bilingual Education Student Organization (BESO)
Knowledge and activities regarding minority language education.

Cadet Club
Purpose is to develop practical, individual leadership skills and teamwork training. The Cadet Club may also be used for those ROTC cadets and other interested students who wish to gain an advanced understanding of such skills as patrolling, map reading, land navigation, and military customs.

Student Council of Math and Science Teacher (SCMST)
The purposes are to (a) recruit current and potential students to mathematics teaching careers, (b) provide support, resources and educational and service opportunities to prospective and practicing teachers as a means of contributing to their professional development related to mathematics education.

Student Reading Council
This local chapter of the International Reading Association encourages the study of reading in all levels of education.

Islander Association for Childhood Education International (IACEI)
To influence the professional growth of educators and the efforts of others who are committed to the needs of children in a changing society.

Kinesiology Club
A pre-professional organization dedicated to an understanding of physical education, wellness, and recreation professions.
Special Interest Student Organizations:

Island Student Athletic Trainers Association (ISATA)
To provide guidance and insight to any student interested in sports medicine field and allied health services.

Honor Societies:

Chi Sigma Iota
This international honor society functions as an honor and professional society for students in the field of counseling.

Kappa Delta Pi
This international education honor society promotes excellence in and recognizes outstanding contributions to education.